Train Kills R.C. Youth At Crossing

Thrown all the way across Broadway when he was struck by the Southern Pacific express train, "Del Monte," Frederick A. Schierner, 11, was killed instantly in Redwood City Monday at 4:40 p.m.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Schierner, 4 Poplar Ave., Redwood City.

Horrified bystanders watched as the boy walked west on the north side of broadway into the side of the speeding train.

John Eads, 152 Lincoln Ave., a watchman at the rail crossing, said the lad apparently was unaware of the approaching locomotive despite screaming whistles. Without tripping or in any other way appearing to lose balance he walked into the train cowcatcher.

Joseph Caccamo, Redwood City Ambulance Service driver, standing nearby said he was unaware the accident had occurred until he saw bystanders rushing to the scene. Then, telling another to bring the ambulance, he rushed to the side of the lad to attempt to render first aid.

Picking up the boy, Caccamo rushed him to a physician's office half a block away on California St. where he was pronounced dead. Physicians said he died of a split skull, compound fractures of the legs and internal injuries.

The boy was a pupil at Washington School where his teacher, Principal Milum Tackitt, said he was an outstanding student and a member of the school's safety patrol. He was in the sixth grade. A brother, James, and a sister, Gloria, also attended the school, the brother in the fifth grade and the sister in the second.

Besides these he was the brother of Barbara and Caroline Schierner who reside with their parents; George J. Schierner, now a member of the U. S. Army, and Mrs. Frances Bojorques of San Mateo.

The body was taken to the Franklin and Crowe Mortuary where Rosary will be said tomorrow at 8 p.m. Funeral services will be conducted Thursday at 9 a.m. at the mortuary and at 9:30 a.m. at Mt. Carmel Catholic Church. Interment will be at Holy Cross Cemetery, Menlo Park.

Conductor of the express train, which ground to a stop as soon as the accident was noticed, was E. J. McGough, and the engineer was J. J. Metz. Addresses of both were listed by police as in San Francisco.

M.P. Man Killed In Africa Action

Pvt. Henry C. Miller, 32, husband of Mrs. Edna Miller of 1360 El Camino Real, Menlo Park, has been killed in action in North Africa, the War Department announced.

Pvt. Miller, who was once released from army service because he was more than 28 years old, was reinducted last August when the 28-year-old order was rescinded.

Mrs. Miller, who operates a punch press for the National Motor Bearing Co. in Redwood City, last heard from her husband in October, just before he was sent overseas. They were married in Reno last March and lived in Palo Alto before moving to Menlo Park recently.

FIRE ACTION

Bettie D. Davis, Brisbane home owner, has filed suit for $2000 against the county, the Brisbane Fire Department and Fire Marshal Richard A. Seiss. She charged that on July 19 the firemen started a blaze near her home and allowed it to damage a fence and shrubs on her property.

Jonas Free After Guilty Plea

William Jonas, 43, former Brisbane tavern owner and member of the Daly City selective service board, Tuesday pleaded guilty in superior court at Redwood city to simple assault. He was sentenced to serve six months in jail by Judge A. R. Cotton. The judge suspended the sentence.

Jonas was free to return to his war industry job, his $3000 bond was exonerated, and the serious charge of assault to commit murder was dismissed.

The selective service board member was accused of the near-fatal shooting of John Vaughn, 31, San Francisco ship rigger, at Jonas' Brisbane tavern Mar. 16, 1942. For weeks, according to physicians, Vaughn, whose intestines were pierced by a revolver bullet, hovered between life and death.

Preliminary hearing was conducted Sept. 23 before the late Judge Wade H. Clay when determined efforts by the defense to have the charge dismissed failed and Jonas was held to the superior court.

Nate C. Coghlan, defense attorney, informed the court that it was doubtful if a jury would have convicted Jonas of any crime, and Judge Cotton, who said he had read the transcript of the preliminary hearing, agreed. Coghlan pointed out that Jonas is investing a large percentage of his war plant salary in war bonds.

Jonas was arrested after Vaughn reported to a San Francisco hospital for treatment. Vaughn was shot after he and a companion created a disturbance in the Brisbane tavern, according to the sheriff's office report. Jonas claimed he shot in self defense.

Supervisors Appoint Commission

In accordance with San Mateo County's newly ratified civil service charter amendment, the board of supervisors, meeting at Redwood City Tuesday, appointed a 5-man civil servic commission. Efforts of Supervisor Alvin S. Hatch to follow the dictates of another amendment requiring codification of county procedure precipitated a sharp conflict between him and Supervisor E. A. McDonald.

Charging that codification had been unnecessarily delayed for more than eight years, Hatch moved that the district attorney be empowered immediately to start work on the procedure code. He pointed out that unless the code is adopted within a year the salaries of the supervisors will be forfeit.

MOTION WITHDRAWN

McDonald accused Hatch of acting without consulting other members of the board, said he would refuse to vote on the motion and demanded a caucus of the board before taking action. On advice of Dist. Atty. Gilbert D. Ferrell the board delayed action a week. Hatch withdrew his motion with consent of Supervisor John W. Poole, who had seconded it.

The civil service commission: First district, James W. Ferguson, Daly City school superintendent; second district, L. G. Owen, retired P.G.&E. executive, and resident of the Redwood City area; third district, J. Elmer Morrish, Redwood City banker; fourth district, Andrew J. Gilcrest, Half Moon Bay business man and school trustee; fifth district, Albert H. Randall, Burlingame union labor executive.

FEDERAL INTEREST

Federal interest in the proposal was evidenced by Lt. J. G. Carter of the U. S. Coast Guard, commander of the shore patrol in the area.

Carter said he was concerned by the number of petty crimes in the area recently, and said his organization had 10 or 15 families there.

"I am not in a position to advise or suggest," he pointed out. "We merely want to know where we stand."

Chairman Fred E. Beer informed the coast guard officer that unless a police district is formed, the county subsidy which has maintained a special deputy sheriff at Sharp Park will be discontinued. It is up to the local district to pay for its own police protection just as Emerald Lake, Millbrae, Half Moon Bay and other districts have done, Beer said.

134 SIGN PETITION

A petition of 134 names favored the district. A protest petition of 210 names opposed it.

Ray Higgins, former grand jury foreman, warned that the north Coastside area would become a dumping ground for petty criminals.

Charles Halling, representing the Pedro Valley Improvement Assn., protested that the district was being foisted upon the people of his area, Moss Beach and Vallemar by Sharp Park residents.

Beer urged proponents of the district to bring in a compromise proposal within a week or face loss of the special police protection now provided.

George McQueen, Burlingame Advance publisher, presented a resolution recommending that state law be changed to make three of the eight members of 1A Agricultural District, which operates the Cow Palace for San Francisco and San Mateo Counties, non-residents of the district, that at least four members be livestock men of long standing and experience, and that any appointments by the governor be made subject to ratification by the state senate.

The resolution, addressed to the senator and assemblyman from this county, was placed on the agenda for the next board meeting.

Application of County Executive Frederick Peterson for $500 for a county victory garden was continued to next meeting.

Mystery Body Identified As That of San Mateo Man

A body found by Walter Noble, 35, Emerald Lake, early Monday inside his automobile which was parked near the Redwood City Greyhound Bus Lines station was identified today as that of Lynwood F. Stevens, 35, 240 Hobart St., San Mateo.

Redwood City police traced the identity by means of a name and address written inside a cowboy boot on the body. The name, "Bruce Stevens," was that of the deceased's brother who is now stationed at an Arizona army post.

Cause of the death is as yet undetermined. Failing in an autopsy to find a cause, Dep. Coroner Lewis Franklin in Redwood City turned vital organs over to chemists in San Francisco for clinical examination. Police Monday said they suspected suicide and that evidence on hand ruled out possibility of a murder.

Stevens had lived in San Mateo for more than 20 years and was a native of Ogden, Utah. In San Mateo he was employed by the G. E. Hathaway Co. as a furniture finisher. Mrs. Hathaway said he had appeared in good health and spirits when she last saw him Saturday.

He was the husband of Mrs. Billie Stevens, the father of Sarah Jane Stevens, 5, and besides his soldier brother had another Kimball Stevens, who lives in Lincoln, Mass.

S.F. Supervisors Ask Water Rate Action

San Francisco Board of Supervisors has requested the city's public utilities commission to give immediate consideration to a reduction in water rates for victory gardens.

Although the commission recommended a reduction last week, action of the supervisors this week was interpreted to mean that the water rate reduction will be approved when it is formally submitted to the supervisors following the required public hearings.

U.S. Confirms Death Of Patrick E. Leahy

News of the death of Patrick E. Leahy, 23, Sequoia High School football player in 1936 and 1937, killed in action in Africa, was announced officially by the War Department in Washington onday. Leahy was one of 364 soldiers listed as killed in action.

The Tribune published the news of Leahy's death on Dec. 15, when Leah's parents were notified. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Leahy, 519 Chestnut St. Leahy was killed Nov. 8.

Defense Chairmen Study at Berkeley

A. B. Blakely and D. Fred Gatchel, civilian defense transportation committee chairman and evacuation committee chairman, this week started a six-day course in defense practices offered at the University of California, Berkeley.

Supervised by Maj. Louis J. Gill who represents the War Department, the courses will include work in basic civilian defense organization, civilian evacuation and transportation, identification, vehicles and personnel, emergency devices for highway movement, traffic management, reconnaissance, logistical data and field expedients.

Approximately 20 army training motion pictures will be used

Reynolds Leaves Estate to Widow

Arthur Reynolds, 74, Hillsborough, retired vice chairman of the board of directors of Bank of America who died Jan. 1, left his entire estate with one exception to his widow, Bertha G. Reynolds of 730 Chiltern Rd., according to a will filed for probate in superior court at Redwood City.

The will, dated Oct. 27, 1942, provided that 100 shares of Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust Co. be added to the trust which Mr. Reynolds had previously established for his daughter, Mrs. Jeannette R. Partridge, 666 Santa Barbara Rd., Berkeley.

Mrs. Reynolds was named executrix of the estate. No value was placed upon it, and the petition said it consisted of personal property.

LICENSES: Deadline Approaches

Although the deadline on 1943 motor vehicle license renewals is only three weeks away, at least 2,000,000 California vehicle owners thus far have failed to file their applications for the new license tabs, it was announced this week by the Department of Motor Vehicles. This means less than one-third of the registered owners have sought renewal.

Gordon H. Garland, newly-appointed director of the Department of Motor Vehicles, urged that motorists of the Redwood City area file applications at once to avoid last minute jams and payment of penalties after midnight, Feb. 4.

Applications may be filed in person at the California Highway Patrol office, 601 Marshall St., Redwood City, or forwarded by mail to the department office in San Francisco or headquarters in Sacramento.

THANK YOU for your cooperation

To the great number of people who responded to the Government's appeal not to travel over the holidays, we want to extend our sincere thanks.

Your cooperation enabled us to take care of those who had to travel—the men of our armed forces. We are sure that the thousands of service men who were able to get well-earned holiday leaves and furloughs also appreciated your cooperation in making more room for them on the buses.

WHAT ABOUT 1943?

Bus transportation has proved to be a vital necessity to a nation at war.

Today America's bus lines are all performing a tremendous task in transporting, with limited equipment and facilities, millions of additional riders—fighting men and war workers.

In 1943 Greyhound will continue to put all of its resources behind the war effort, to provide transportation for the armed forces, war workers and other essential travelers. And every effort will be made to improve our service as rapidly as war conditions will permit.

At this time all of us of Pacific Greyhound Lines extend to our friends and patrons every good wish for the coming year.

Defense Volunteers Conduct Drill

Downtown Redwood City streets were blocke off Tuesday night as civilian defense volunteers conducted a drill. Answering 14 simulated incidents, workers rendered first aid, fought fire and gas and did demolition work on damaged buildings.

Fire Chief Mark E. Ryan said he believed the fire department had had a successful drill but pointed out that one call last night was not answered because of a shortage of equipment. Such a circumstance, he said, was likely to happen in event of an actual raid.

Police Sgt. W. H. (Bud) Thorpe, chief air raid warden, said this morning he planned to have wardens act as guides and information checkers for rescue, fire and first aid squads at future drills. Until now, he continued, information has been gained by such squads entirely from slips of paper pinned on casualties and buildings. During an actual raid wardens will be called upon for information and Thorpe said he believed wardens might just as well get in practice now.

Commenting on a shortage of equipment which will follow almost any large scale enemy raid, Dr. Richard Ames, emergency medical director, today said he believed it might be a good idea for senior air raid wardens in each district to contact control center workers, advising them of the more serious incidents.

R.C. Man Elected To Engineers' Board

Walter C. Smith of Palo Alto will be installed as president of the Engineers' Club of San Francisco, succeeding Larry A. Elsener, San Mateo, at the annual dinner meeting of the club to be held at 6:30 p.m. Friday in San Francisco. Other officers to be installed at the meeting include Edward W. Englebright, Oakland, secretary; James W. Mahoney, treasurer. Among new members of the board of directors is Robert A. Hudson, partner in Hudson & Grady, San Francisco, who resides in Redwood City.

When women were first employed by the federal government, in the middle of the 19th century, they appeared on the payroll in the name of some male relative.

Treadwell Files For Will Probate

Edward F. Treadwell, San Francisco attorney who resides at 2208 Oakdale Rd., Hillsborough, had filed for probate of will of his wife, Mrs. Eulila May Treadwell, in superior court at Redwood City today — 20 years to the day from the time he filed his famed suit for $300,000 against trustees of the estate of Henry Miller of Miller & Lux Inc.

Treadwell stated the value of his wife's estate, which consists of real and personal property, "exceeds $10,000." A will dated Feb. 9, 1940, left the entire estate to Treadwell. Mrs. Treadwell died Dec. 9, 1942.

On Jan. 11, 1923, Treadwell sued J. Leroy Nickel and Nellie Miller Nickel, trustees and executors of the estate of Henry Miller for $300,000 for attorney's fees, in superior court at Redwood City. The court awarded him the figure, plus expenses, bringing him a total of $333,147.67, according to court records.

Treadwell was the first mayor of Burlingame when it was incorporated in 1908.

Twenty applicants already have enrolled, and 10 more will be accepted, Mrs. Bullard said today. She will interview any women or girls interested in joining the class who call the Redwood City Red Cross headquarters (RC 118) or Mrs. Eyre (P.A. 3252), for appointments.

Applicants must be between the ages of 18 and 50, or older if in excellent health.

SAFETY: 5 Streets Affected

The five streets affected are: Creek Drive, Harvard, Roble, Menlo and Ravenswood Aves.

Colonel Skeggs said elimination of left turns into at least five Menlo streets was necessary to insure safety measures since El Camino Real is a thoroughfare. He said the highway department was prepared to install diagonal white lines down the middle of El Camino Real, cutting off left turn traffic into the five streets mentioned. Right turns will still be permitted.

Although members of the city council tentatively approved the action, they set next Monday night for a special hearing on the subject. Residents who wish to be heard before the city council takes final action on the situation should be present at the Menlo Park City Hall, Monday at 7:30 p.m.

Street Comsr. William F. Cutter proposed formation of an assessment district to force property owners along El Camino Real to install curbs and sidewalks on their property. Cutter pointed out that some property owners along the highway have not voluntarily agreed to these improvements and should be forced to install curbs and sidewalks.

Council members supported Cutter's proposal and announced they would create such an assessment district unless the reluctant property owners agreed to the installation of curbs and sidewalks by the next regular council meeting, Jan 25.

The council adopted the resolution of its finance committee which provides that Bldg. Inspr. John Glunz be paid 50 per cent of all building permit, supervision and inspection fees—and guaranteed a minimum of $25 a month. Glunz formerly received only a small commission from these fees.

Donald Fisher, Stanford Park resident who appeared before the council to protest Menlo Park water rates, was appointed to the Water Commission under Councilman Charles P. Burgess, which is investigating the possibility of lowering water rates.

NEW BOOKS: R. C. Library Announces New Fiction List

Redwood City Public Library has announced receipt of dozens of new volumes of fiction, including Marica Davenport's "Valley of Decision," Susan Glaspell's "Norma Ashe," Frank Swinnerton's "Thankless Child" and B. A. Williams' "Time of Peace."

The last named book is an historical novel dealing with American life in the 1930 to Pearl Harbor period. It is, according to Miss Wilhelmina Harper, librarian, a clever analysis of the change of mind and heart we, as a people, have undergone in recent years.

Other new books ready for distribution:

"Tambay Gold," Stephen Adams; "No Surrender," Martha Allbrand; "House of the Roses," Charlotte Baker; "Sun in Capricorn," Hamilton Basso; "Come Slowly Eden," Laura Bent; "The Moving Finger," A. M. Christie; "Flare Path," Tod Claymore; "The Quiet Lady," Norman Collins; "Glass Mountain," M. F. Commuters Protest Changes

BELMONT—T. Louis Chess, Southern Pacific district passenger agent, this week heard protests of commuter service at a meeting of the Belmont Chamber of Commerce and took the matter under advisement, but no definite promise was made that the service would be improved.

Belmont residents protested what they termed unsatisfactory service brought about by the revised train schedule which took effect Jan. 10. The protest was lodged with the railroad last week by Mrs. Laura Roeder, president of the Belmont chamber.

Chess pointed out to the 65 persons who attended the meeting in the city hall that trains and engines are now being used by the armed forces and therefore some changes had to be made on the Peninsula. He said, however, he would try to work out a schedule whereby more trains will stop at Belmont.

Efforts to get larger quarters for a hospitality house at Belmont are continuing, it was reported at the meeting. There is a hospitality house at present on Sixth Ave. off Ralston Blvd., but there is a definite need for a larger house, Mrs. Roeder said. The hospitality house will be moved to larger quarters as soon as transactions can be completed, she stated.

S.C. FIRE: Residence Damaged

SAN CARLOS—A garage and two automobiles were completely destroyed and the residence of Roy H. Avilla, 1411 Chestnut St., San Carlos, was badly damaged by fire Saturday afternoon. Approximately $2500 damage was done by the blaze, it was estimated by Chief Edward J. Wheeler.

San Carlos firemen, both regular and volunteer, battled the blaze for more than two hours, Chief Wheeler said. Roof over the kitchen and living room of the residence, which adjoined the garage, was destroyed.

Avilla told firemen he had been taking gasoline out of one car to use for cleaning and left the garage for a short time. When he returned gasoline in a pan was aflame and the blaze was spreading. There was no explosion, according to Chief Wheeler. A heater in the garage may have started the blaze, Wheeler said. Loss was covered by insurance.

County Praised For Scrap Effort

SAN MATEO — San Mateo County's scrap collecting record was praised in the announcement that well over one million pounds of scrap metal has been turned over to the government from this area. The announcement was made by R. G. Stevenson, WPA district superintendent.

Work on this project was started in the county last October by the WPA and in a period of less than three months this total has been reached, he said. Santa Cruz County, which tops the list of neighboring counties, has a total of 1,400,000 pounds, gathered in a drive started last May, five months before this county's.

Toastmasters Discuss Varied Subjects

A variety of subjects was discussed at Monday night's meeting of the Toastmasters Club, at which Eugene Hoffman presided.

John Eshleman talked on "What Is a Nationalist?" and explained that he is one who wants his country to look out for its citizens above everything else. Dr. William Gordon spoke on "A Glimpse of China," commenting on the length of time that country's government has existed; James Hagan, "Anecdotes of Appreciation," telling of its presence and absence in his daily experiences; Henry Pahland, "Thou Shalt Not," discussing the action of Jehovah's Witnesses in holding to their religious convictions in refusing to salute the flag, and James Thornton, "What Is Democracy?" explaining that one of the principles of democracy is the individual development of each of its members.

Dr. Virgil Anderson was the critic.

YMCA: Peninsula Leaders To Attend S.F. Institute

The Peninsula YMCA will participate in the special leadership training institute being conducted by the San Francisco YMCA Saturday and Sunday, it was announced today by Glenn R. Snyder, executive secretary for the Peninsula branch. The institute is open to all old and new leaders of YMCA clubs, and all prospective leaders of groups.

Visiting members of the faculty will be Miss Gladys Guinaw, adjutant, American Red Cross; Dr. Harleigh Trecker, professor of group work at the University of Southern California, and Dr. Walter J. Homan, dean of the lower division, San Francisco State College. Five members of the YMCA executive staff will complete the faculty.

The program will open at 3 p.m. each Saturday with an address on the importance of YMCA club work, following which several age level clinics will meet. Following a short recreational period, the leaders will be served a dinner. Group meetings will follow, and a demonstration by a boys' club will complete the evening.

Several leaders of clubs in the Sequoia district are planning to attend both Saturday sessions.

The LF YMCA Club of the Redwood City Methodist Church last Saturday visited San Francisco, spending time at the aquarium, the science building, and the DeYoung Museum. The trip was made by train.

Members who made the excursion were Robert Day, Donald Penner, Richard Buell, Edward Sherman, Frank Thomas and Richard Lauer. The group was supervised by James A. Batchelor.

Bank Stockholders Conduct Meeting

American Trust Company held its annual stockholders' meeting Jan. 12 at its head office in San Francisco.

James K. Lochead, president, reported that the bank's growth during 1942 was the greatest in its history, deposits increasing $89,029,905 to a total of $454,747,664. The other most significant change in the bank's statement was the large increase in holdings of the United States government bonds and notes which now aggregate $141,228,042.99 or $84,380,675.08 more than Dec. 31, 1941.

One hundred ninety-nine members of the bank's staff joined the United States armed forces during 1942 bringing to total in various branches of the services to 293. Despite this loss, together with a naturally large turnover of the junior members of the staff, the bank has not only been able to continue its regular services but to engage energetically in war-time activities. From 1941, when the war bond sale program was inaugurated, to Dec. 31, 1942 American Trust Co. issued over 375,000 Series "E" bonds of various denominations with a total maturity value of $33,174,825. Sales of all war bonds and stamps amounted to $46,719,290. Added to $18,138,800 of tax notes, this made a grand total of almost $65,000,000 in government securities sold by the bank.

Nutrition Expert Praises Grains

"Grains and their milling methods are of international significance today," declares Dr. Jennie I. Rowntree, scientific writer and professor of nutrition at the University of Washington in Seattle.

Grains now are of worldwide importance, Dr. Rowntree explains, because by eating more cereals and bread, Americans can release to our armed forces and to our United Nations Allies more of the meat, eggs, milk, cheese, and other animal protein foods they so greatly need.

"The average American thinks of bread and grain products simply as starch and calories, which he views as menacing to a streamlined figure," Dr. Rowntree remarks. "He may be surprised to learn that by eating six or seven servings of grain foods —bread, cereal, biscuits, hot bread, and the like—he will be getting as much protein as from his daily quota of meat."

In choosing cereal foods, for best nutrition, select those which contain at least a part of the whole grain or those which are enriched with vitamins and iron, Dr. Rowntree recommends.

TO ALL MONTGOMERY WARD PEOPLE

1—You are free to join or not to join a union, as you wish. The Company fully respects this privilege. Your opportunity with the Company will be the same whether you are a union member or not.

2—You do not have to join a union to work at Wards.

3—Wards is opposed to all forms of the closed shop. Liberty requires that an employee be free to join, to refuse to join, or to resign from a union without losing his job. Liberty requires that an employer be free to employ the person best suited for the work.

4—The President of the United States has commanded Wards to accept for its Chicago plant a form of closed shop called "maintenance of membership". Under this form of closed shop, employees are not free to resign from the union without losing their jobs. Wards is compelled to discharge every union member who fails to maintain his union membership in good standing (non-payment of dues, etc.). This making of membership in a union a condition of holding a job is the closed shop.

5—Wards did not voluntarily agree to this requirement. Wards believes it to be illegal and uneconomic. Wards has accepted it under duress and only because the President of the United States expressly so ordered.

6—Wards is the only retailer in the United States upon whom the President has imposed any form of the closed shop. It is unfair to impose burdens upon Wards and not upon those with whom it is in competition. If the retail industry is to be subjected to the closed shop requirement, it should be legislated by Congress and applied uniformly against all retail establishments.

7—The National War Labor Board has now called a hearing to determine whether the employees at Wards' six large stores in Denver, Detroit and New York City must belong to the union in order to hold their jobs. Wards will continue to oppose this illegal and uneconomic requirement. Wards will reject any demand of the Board that employees be discharged because they fail to maintain their union membership.

8—The President of the United States has no authority to order Wards employees to remain union members in order to hold their jobs. Congress is the only law-making authority. Congress has passed no law requiring the closed shop.

RINGING 'EM UP

KNIVES: R.C. Residents Continue to Contribute

Knives for American service men stationed in South Sea island jungles are still pouring into Redwood City police headquarters and Mayor Floyd D. Granger said today they will be turned over to the Fourth Air Command for shipment to fighters.

Ambires Harris, 311 Jeter St., who previously turned in two knives he'd constructed from saw and file blades, has turned in two others.

A. G. Wohlrabe, 149 Central Ave., turned in a knife the handle of which was made from the horn of the first deer he ever killed.

Others turning in blades to police are S. S. McCarver, 49 Ebener St.; Mrs. A. R. Dixon, 35 Arch St., two knives; W. C. Beard, 514 Jeter St.; R. J. Brister, 2753 Devonshire St.; John H. Schroeder, 119 Hopkins St.; Mrs. J. W. Mallory, 1316 Middlefield Rd.; Bruce Johnston, 1546 Hopkins St.; E. E. Peabody, 146 Elwood St.; Gordon Dickerson, 401 Park St.; Eugene Socht, 590 Beresford Ave.; Henry H. Wyman, 515 Oak Ave., and Desmond G. Sekany, 36 30th Ave., San Mateo.

S.S.F. Workers Plead Guilty

Frank Martinez, 24, and Ralph McGaughran, 26, former Western Pipe & Steel Co. employes in South San Francisco accused of forging payroll checks and mulcting the company of about $1200, pleaded guilty to three counts of forgery and were sentenced to San Quentin.

The pair pleaded guilty in Judge Maxwell McNutt's department of superior court at Redwood City and waived time for sentence. They were sentenced on each of the three counts, sentences to run concurrently.

Dep. Dist. Atty. Louis B. Dematteis said both men were on parole from San Quentin.

Amendment Effects Summarized

Dist. Atty. Gilbert D. Ferrell this week summarized the immediate effects of ratification of the five county charter amendments adopted by the voters in November. The five were ratified by the legislature last week. The results as outlined by the district attorney:

1. Dr. C. C. Gans, county director of health and welfare, whose office has been the subject of prolonged controversy between the county executive, the board of health and the board of supervisors, has been "blanketed in" under civil service as a permanent county employe.

2. Before Jan. 6, 1944, the board of supervisors must codify county procedure or face loss of salary.

3. Bradlee Smith, assistant county purchasing agent, is likewise a permanent employe. The charter provision requiring the county executive to appoint a purchasing agent, is of no effect, Ferrell said, since the present county law makes the executive ex officio the purchasing agent.

4. The executive must, before Feb. 6, nominate four members of the board of health and welfare, or forfeit to the board of supervisors the appointive power. The amendments add a doctor and a dentist to the board. The term of Dr. N. D. Morrison Sr. has expired, and the position held by the late Dr. Will Rebec has never been filled.

Appointment of health board members has likewise been a point of controversy between the executive and the supervisors because of the latter's refusal to confirm the nomination of Dr. Harry Warren, named half a dozen times by the executive.

John Hurley, 30, San Francisco rigger accused of robbing Ruth Gomez in Daly City Nov. 23, was sentenced to San Quentin Monday afternoon by Judge A. R. Cotton in superior court. Hurley pleaded guilty to robbery in the second degree. The prosecution charged that he knocked the woman down and stole her purse.

Charges of felony drunk driving against Sam Berghorst, 36, Menlo Park contractor, were reduced to misdemeanor drunk driving. Berghorst pleaded guilty, was fined $50 and released on time served: 46 days.

Lieutenant Applies For Estate Letters

Garth Jared, lieutenant in the air corps, today had applied to superior court at Redwood City for letters of administration in the estates of his father, the late Charles B. Jared of San Mateo, and his mother, Ruth P. Jared, who died Jan. 8. Both estates were valued in excess of $10,000.

The father, who died Mar. 9, 1942, left an estate of $17,192 to his wife. She was completing administration at the time of her death, according to the petition. She left her estate in equal shares to Garth Jared and his brother, Ralph, of Elkridge. The lieutenant lives at 2811 Hillside Dr., Burlingame.

Councilmen Authorize Exemption Request

Redwood City city councilmen have informally authorized City Mgr. Robert W. Mead to request exemption from selective service for Joesph Lodi, deputy fire chief, if a physical examination he underwent Friday results in his being reclassified from 3-A to 1-A.

Councilmen said that, although they ordinarily would not make requests for firemen, they would this time because Lodi is an officer and essential to the maintenance for an emergency organization.

Stanford Plans Free Mathematics Course

STANFORD UNIVERSITY — For women who want a review of mathematics and additional training in mathematics before taking full-time courses in engineering and aircraft drafting and chemical laboratory technician training, Stanford University is to offer both in San Francisco and at Stanford a free, 12-week course in elementary engineering mathematics.

In San Francisco the war training class will meet next Tuesday at the American Institute of Banking and at Stanford the class will open the same evening in the Education Building. Men in war industries who need algebra and trigonometry for their work are also eligible to take the free course. It will meet two evenings a week.

SALVAGE: Atherton Group To Conduct 'All Out' Drive In Tin Can Pick Up Sunday

Atherton defense area has joined in the new drive for tin cans and an "all-out" collection day has been set for next Sunday, Mrs. Bernard J. Perry, chairman of the area's salvage committee, announced today.

Residents of the area are requested to place their properly prepared (washed, tops and bottoms opened, sides flattened) tin cans on the side of the streets in front of their homes not later than Saturday evening, so that trucks can pick them up without waste of time and rubber Sunday, Mrs. Perry said.

Mrs. Perry requested that cans be placed in cardboard cartons or containers. She emphasized the drive is for tin cans only and no other metal will be accepted at this time.

Meantime, Frank A. DePatta, chairman of the Redwood City Salvage Committee, today announced that Redwood City scavengers will pick up tin cans at local service stations Sunday. The tin will be taken to the Metal and Thermit Corp. detinning plant at South San Francisco. The scavengers are donating their time and trucks, DePatta said. V. J. Arata is the scavenger contractor heading the pickup.

Station lots are pretty well filled up with tin cans at the present, DePatta said, as there has been no systematic pickup. However, pickups will be made on a systematic basis hereafter, he declared.

DePatta warned again today there is to be "no dumping" on lower Broadway, by order of the police department. "No dumping" signs have been placed at the site where scrap metal formerly was gathered.

Anyone who has scrap metal —other than tin cans—should telephone DePatta, Redwood City 201-W, and he will see that it is picked up, the chairman said.

Commission Approves Post-War Plan

Redwood City today was given a glimpse of the post-war future following the city planning commission's approval of the "Planned Program of Public Works" submitted by City Mgr. Robert W. Mead.

The program listed some 80 projects, to cost $1,361,950 in a five-year post-war construction period. Included were a new recreation area, improvements to the water system and fire department and an airport.

Mead said this morning that the plan, still in its formative stages, will be forwarded to the city council. If approved, it will call for formation of a council priorities board to ascertain the order in which the projects will be consummated.

"I want to make it clear," he said, "that this plan as it now stands merely lists projects deemed advisable. We, of course, cannot start them with any critical war materials, and, so far, financing methods have not even been suggested."

The planning commission made three changes in the program. It suggested an addition to the electrical department outlay in order to place all downtown electrical power lines underground, and to place poles in the residential areas in the rear of homes rather than on the streets.

A plan to widen Broadway six feet was not approved, the commission decided, because the additional driving space would not warrant the expenditure. It was suggested that future plans include a 16-foot widening.

Yacht Harbor construction plans were abandoned by the commission when it was learned that the present harbor is located on Port of Redwood City property and is used on a temporary basis.

Given major consideration in the Mead plan was the recreation department. Items listed include development of a 30-acre recreational center. Costs would include $30,000 for the site, $20,000 for a 100x80-foot pavilion, $4000 for landscaping, $17,000 for a community building, $9000 for baseball and football fields, an equal amount for play areas, $21,000 for tennis courts, $4000 for lighting, a $10,000 grandstand, $6000 rustic bridge, $4000 refreshment stand, $3000 for barbecue pits and tables, $2000 for incinerators and $6500 for fencing.

Listed as "future projects were a $45,000 swimming pool, $5000 aquarium, and $4000 bird refuge or aviary.

Other park developments listed were $15,000 for development of California Square bounded by Marshall, Bradford, Winslow and Hamilton Sts.; $9000 for additional water supply, landscaping, walks, roads and tennis courts in Hawes Park, and $9200 for improving the seating, lighting, parking areas and approach to Easter Bowl.

For the engineering department Mead listed $228,500 for a sewage treatment plant to collect and treat all domestic sewage from a community of 35,000. Included in the plan are a pumping plant, primary clarifier, apurtenant equipment, a sludge digestor, control house, and four and a half acres of land and sludge beds.

Other projects:

Airfield, $45,000, including hangar, auxiliary building, paved runway.

Reassessment of city property valuations, $24,500.

Corporation yard, $28,000.

Drainage projects, $43,000.

Street and road repairs, $51,700.

Creek and channel realignment, $69,900.

Replacing temporary wooden bridges, $71,700.

To the suds with Woolens

Each day we homemakers seem to take on added work at home. Many who have never tackled the task of washing woolens at home, are finding themselves confronted with this problem.

IS IT 100% WOOL?

100% wool fabrics and clothes are so labeled. This is more or less of a warning because there are so many synthetic wool fabrics that do not lend themselves to washing. But if it is all wool or wool and cotton, then you're safe to tackle the job yourself.

CHOOSE SOAP CAREFULLY

Choose a reputable granulated soap which dissolves quickly in lukewarm water. Be sure the water is only LUKE warm. This is important. If you're not sure of the temperature, test it with your elbow. It is more sensitive to heat than your hand. It should feel just tepid.

MEASURE THE ARTICLE

Before dousing the article to be washed into the suds, measure it. If it is a sweater, baby clothes or something of that sort, it is well to cut out a paper pattern as a guide for size. Measure blankets and large articles.

ACTUAL WASHING

Squeeze, NEVER RUB, woolen garments in the suds. If the article doesn't come clean in one suds, then squeeze it through a second suds of the same temperature. When clean, squeeze out the water, and rinse in water the same temperature as the washing water.

Rinse twice or until water runs clear of soap. NEVER WRING, but squeeze out excess water.

SHAPING OR HANGING

Sweaters, baby clothes and the like should be pulled back to their original shape. If a pattern is made, lay it on the pattern and pin it in shape. Lay on several thicknesses of bath towel to dry and dry it in the shade, not in the sun.

For blankets and large articles, hang them on the line, being sure they are straight and not pulled askew at the corners. The shade is best for these, too. And a windy day is ideal for washing heavy things like blankets.

If you can't get that —try this

Even though our food dealers' shelves are likely to take on the appearance of Old Mother Hubbard's cupboard during this wartime period, it is still up to the homemaker to keep the family fare in balance with sufficient vitamins, minerals, and other body-building indispensables.

It may mean changing your food habits, but you CAN keep your family well fed in face of limited selections.

FOR YOUR DAILY QUOTA OF VITAMIN A

. . . Look to your dairy products, eggs, sundry meats such as liver, heart and kidney, oily fish, leafy green and yellow vegetables. If one "A" food is not available, then turn to another.

GET YOUR VITAMIN B

. . . From whole grain cereals, enriched flour and bread, milk, eggs, liver, kidney, fruits, and vegetables. Think of these when lean meats are not available.

YOU'LL FIND VITAMIN C

In oranges, lemons, grapefruit, tomatoes and berries. Leafy raw vegetables, especially cabbage, can be called upon for "C" should there be need.

MINERALS ARE NECESSARY

You won't have to go mining for these minerals. But they should be given careful consideration in the menu.

Calcium—Of course dairy products, especially milk and cheese, are the best source, but the pinch hitters are molasses, carrots, cabbage, broccoli, and dried figs.

Iron—Liver, heart and kidney are about the best sources of this all important mineral. But too, there's whole grain cereals, enriched flour and breads, lean meats, egg yolks and leafy green vegetables.

PROTEIN AND ENERGY FOODS

Proteins—These are the sustaining foods around which our menus are usually built. Meat, of course, is most universally favored. But when the family quota is exhausted, then think of the menu in terms of cheese, eggs, dried beans and nuts. They do a similar job as meat, and you'll find some of them available.

Energy Foods—Somehow or other, we seem to get our share of these, so there's no need for worry here. Breads, desserts, potatoes, in other words, starches and sweets, are seldom neglected on any menu.

WE'VE PLENTY TO EAT

There are plenty of nourishing, appetizing foods to be had. It is a matter of manipulating the menu to include all the nutritional necessities. Julia Lee Wright's Family Circle articles are designed to help you adjust your cookery to a wartime basis. You'll benefit by watching for them weekly, and clipping them for future reference.
